UNSTOPPABLE DOMAINS

Unstoppable Domains is a company that provides blockchain-based domain names. The San Francisco-based company started by providing domains ending in .crypto (based on Ethereum) and .zil (based on the Zilliqa blockchain). This process is similar to acquiring a .com or .net web address used to publish websites on the Internet.

In 2021, Unstoppable Domains added more domain name choices including: blockchain, .bitcoin, .dao, .nft and .coin. These domains will be used in the blockchain layer (Web 3.0) of the Internet.

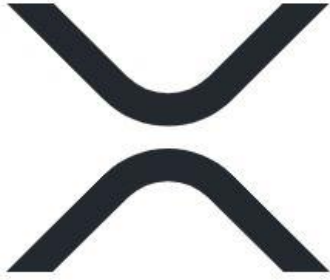

Using the New Domain Names?

Today, there are practical uses for domain names. Here are a couple:

- By obtaining a .crypto address, a user can associate this address with their wallet addresses. This allows for someone to use their .crypto address to move coins.
- To speculate. For example, by acquiring some well know addresses (e.g., TheWhiteHouse.nft,) an investor can potentially sell these in the future.

Keep in Mind

- In the future, people will be able to send money using a .crypto address like they send an email today.
- Many of the uses of the domains will become apparent in the Metaverse.

XRP is the 6th ranked cryptocurrency in terms of market cap.

RIPPLE (XRP)

The price of Ripple (XRP) moved downward this past week. As of this email, XRP is trading at $.71 USD. This is down from $.77 USD two weeks ago. No real news on the SEC lawsuit. Just that the SEC keeps stalling. Why would an agency that filed the law suite continue to claim they need more time. Can you say corrupt! .
