RECOMMENDED READING

I am in the process of reading an exceptional book entitled: 3 Steps to Quantum Wealth. It is a guide to financial freedom by Investing in Cryptocurrencies. It was written by Linda P. Jones and it's on the #1 International Best Sellers list. It aligns with my investment philosophy whereby generational wealth will be created by investing in this new asset class. It takes the old adage of getting rich slowly and turns it on its head.

Back in the 1989, I read, “One up on Wall Street”. It is one of the all-time best sellers on how to invest in the stock market. Peter Lynch, the money manager for the Magellan Fund under Fidelity Investments, achieved an average annual profitability of 29.2% between 1977 and 1990. Peter Lynch is considered one of the best investors in history.

Based on my early assessment, 3 Steps to Quantum Wealth could be the investment book of the 2020's. It explains how wealth creation is speeding up with cryptos. And more importantly, how to protect your wealth once it is achieved.

Key takeaway so far from the book: Cryptocurrency returns have averaged a level equal to roughly 20 times conventional equity investments.

RIPPLE (XRP)

The price of Ripple (XRP) moved down this past week. Last week XRP was trading at $.77 USD and today (3/5/22) it is trading at $.74 USD. Big move on the SEC lawsuit. "Accordingly, the SEC's motion to strike Ripple's fair notice affirmative defense is DENIED" - Judge Analisa Torres. What I've read is that is a win for Ripple.
